Critical Stage Inspections for Building Work

Your development may require inspections during the construction phase which will take place at the critical stages of the development. This is to ensure that the construction works have been undertaken in accordance with the Building Code of Australia and relevant standards.

Where are my required critical stage inspections listed?

Your critical stage inspections will be listed in a schedule attached to Development Approval or Complying Development Certificate.

Booking critical stage inspections

When you are ready for an inspection, Council requires the inspection be booked 48 hours prior to when the inspection is needed. Inspections with less notice may also be carried out in consultation with Council's Planning and Environmental Services Section.

If you would like to arrange an inspection please call Council's Planning & Environmental Services Section Department on (02) 6930 1800.

Fences and gates protect your dog from the dangers of roaming.

If you own a dog you have to take responsibility for your dog on your property.

If you choose to keep dogs it is important that people passing by your property are not harassed or endangered by your animals. Proper fencing is essential.

Fencing Requirements

As a responsible pet owner it is important to ensure that your fence or dog enclosure is:

- * High enough that your dog cannot jump over it.
- * Low enough that your dog cannot dig under it.
- * Strong enough that your dog cannot push it over.
- * Hole-proof so that your dog cannot escape through it.
- * Designed so that your dog cannot reach people through it.

Community Rights

Unaccompanied animals roaming the streets are at risk of injury. Pet owners and other residents have a right and responsibility to have lost and stray animals rescued and either taken to the pound or returned to their owners.

Liability

Many pet owners do not realise that they are legally responsible for any damage their pet does – especially when it occurs beyond their property.

If your pet attacks another animal or injures a person, you will face significant fines and your dog could be declared dangerous.
